MAY 5-12 Lake Aire RV Park, Hollywood, SC. (Near Charleston)

A slide show of some of the photos that Bobbi and I took at the May campout is on our SeLoW website, and many more photos are in two separate May 25 albums on the Southeast LoWs Facebook page.

We had 12 people at the campout: 11 members (Bobbi Harden [host], Bob Hollup, Daryl Sponseller, Cheryl Love, David Poole, John Henry Markham, Larry Massey, Pat Moore, Sandy Burns, Kat McGrath, and Wal Kafitz) and one guest (Sandra Burns' cousin, Michelle Flint). We're having more people at our campouts this year. Looks like we'll have 15-20 at the June campout.

As always, Bobbi kept us busy and well-fed. It rained all day Sunday, so the hamburger dinner was postponed until Monday evening. Bobbi, David, and Daryl prepared the hamburgers and Wal made a delicious dessert. We had our usual daily 8:30 AM coffee and 4 PM happy hour and Wednesday pot luck. We all appreciate that John Henry supplies the meat for our pot lucks—for this one, pork chops and sauerkraut. We had several lunches out, so we ordered pizza on Saturday evening instead of going out to dinner, and Wal made another delicious dessert for everyone.

The first part of the week was rainy and cool, so we worked our schedule around the weather. From Wednesday through Saturday, the weather was perfect for being outside. Our first stop in Charleston was, of course, the Visitors Center. Then we rode the free trolley around Charleston before taking a paid tour the next day. We went to the City Market, saw the 300- to 400-year-old Angel Oak tree, took a cruise to Fort Sumter, visited the Patriots Point Naval & Maritime Museum aboard the USS Yorktown aircraft carrier, toured the ship, and had lunch in the mess hall.

One day, some of us went to Charles Towne Landing, toured the museum, walked the history trail, went aboard a reproduction of a 17th-century trading vessel, and then went to Folly Beach for lunch and a short walk either on the beach or on the pier. Others, who were more shopping-inclined, browsed through multiple thrift shops for the day. We attended the Greek Festival one afternoon and then a street dance that night in the Olde Village Area, which was part of the North Charleston Arts Festival. We visited the museum of the H.L. Hunley, a Civil-War submarine that sank a large ship before being mysteriously lost at sea; and then we went to the North Charleston Riverfront Park, which is home to the Greater Charleston Naval Base Memorial and features many large-scale sculptures along the walking trail.

Did I mention that Bobbi kept us BUSY!
